SOCIETY for the Purpose of effecting the Abolition of the SLAVE TRADE.

AT a General Meeting held this Day at the Exchange Tavern,

It was unanimously resolved,

That the following Subscribers be appointed a Committee for conducting this Business.

Nathan Hyde, Esq;	Thomas Carill Worsley, Esq;

SAMUEL JACKSON, Secretary.

Exchange Tavern, December 29, 1787.

AT a General Meeting, held this Day, in order to receive the Report of the Committee, the following Resolutions were unanimously agreed to:

That the Traffic and Slavery of the Human Species is a direct Violation of the Precepts of true Religion; in Opposition to the Principles of Liberty, Justice, and Humanity; and disgraceful in the Extreme to every Country by which it is encouraged, or even tolerated.

That the African Slave Trade is such a Traffic; and that this Meeting regards with Abhorrence, a Commerce productive of Oppression, Cruelty, and even Murder, upon Millions of our Fellow Creatures.

That this Meeting, though fully sensible of the Importance of Manufactures and Commerce to the real Interests of this Nation, is yet too jealous of that Reputation which all honest Men ought to desire, to wish the Promotion of any Traffic, however lucrative, by Means inconsistent with Humanity or Integrity; and they are convinced moreover, that the Traffic in Question is highly impolitic as well as inhuman.

That it is extremely desirable to call the Attention of Parliament to this unjustifiable Traffic, by Petitions from the People at large.

That it is expedient to present a Petition with this View, from the Town and Neighbourhood of Manchester.

That a circular Letter be addressed, on Behalf of this Meeting, to the Mayor, or other chief Magistrate, of every principal Town throughout Great Britain, requesting their Concurrence in a similar Measure.

That in order to procure the general and final Abolition of the African Slave Trade, it will be highly expedient to extend Information on this important Subject to every Part of Europe.

That this Meeting approves of the Steps which have been taken in Manchester, by the Boroughreeve, Constables, and other Gentlemen, who have hitherto interested themselves in this Business.

That the Society formed in London, for the Purpose of effecting the Abolition of the Slave Trade, having been the First to come forward as a Body in this Kingdom, in Favour of the oppressed Africans, are entitled to the particular Thanks of this Meeting, and of every other Friend to this Cause of Humanity, for a Conduct so disinterested and so laudable.

That the further Sum of One Hundred Guineas, out of the Money subscribed in Manchester, be transmitted to the Committee of that Society, in Aid of their truly benevolent Exertions.

That these Resolutions be immediately published in such a Manner, as shall insure their Circulation throughout the Kingdoms of Great Britain and Ireland.

THOMAS WALKER.

‖§‖ The Society instituted in London in 1787, for the Purpose of effecting the Abolition of the Slave Trade, will thankfully receive any Communication on that Subject, addressed to Granville Sharp, Esq; the Chairman of the Committee, at their Office, No. 18, in the Old Jewry; and as the Business has already been attended with a considerable Expence, and cannot be effected without much more, the Subscriptions of those who are disposed to contribute towards the Accomplishment of the above desirable Object, will be received by Samuel Hoare, jun. Esq; Treasurer to the Society, in Lombard-street, London.
